

Dennis R. Hansen Sr.

September 14, 1958 - January 26, 2019

Dennis R. Hansen, Sr., 60, passed away in Jacksonville, FL on January 26, 2019. Dennis was born in Newark, NJ to George and Gertrude Hansen.

Dennis was always known as the hardest working employee, unselfish and humble, always there for his friends. He was a loving family man that no matter what the circumstances were, would always be smiling. He loved life and all the beauty found throughout the known universe. He would give his undivided attention to a complete stranger if needed, and his friends all knew they could always depend on him no matter how big or small the favor was. Early in his life, he enjoyed playing the piano and singing, chasing around his then high school crush (who would become his wife) around on his bicycle just so he could see her that day. Even though you could find him singing Praise and Worship with the Church choir throughout times in his life, sometimes he wasn't always the perfect angel he portrayed himself to be. From time to time you could find him in the backyard of a neighborhood keg party. His skill set as a diesel mechanic began early in life. When he was younger, Dennis used to want to build a car with "rockets". Every weekend, and sometimes weeknights, he was able to live his dream of being in a band singing Karaoke with family and friends. He was always willing to try a new experience or a new restaurant (as he enjoyed a good meal). But most of all, out of all these qualities and descriptions, all of who he was could be summed up very simply. He was one of a kind. A great son, a terrific brother, a loving husband to his late wife Debbie who passed away in 2016, and "no matter what, I will always love you" father to his four children: Dennis R. Hansen, Jr., Gina Hansen, Kalie Hansen, and Michelle Hansen. The Services are going to be rescheduled for a future date.

“ I'm sorry for the lost, we have more oxygen but at the time more sadness, rest in peace my friend.
